Video grabs of the stabbing incident.

Mysuru, Jan. 22 (RK&KS)- An incident of Road Rage, where a bike rider stopped a KSRTC bus and stabbed the bus driver has been reported on Mysuru-Hassan Highway, about 31 kilometres from Mysuru.

The injured bus driver, identified as Venkatesh is undergoing treatment at a private hospital in city and is said to be out of danger.

Details: Yesterday evening, the KSRTC bus (KA-45-F-0007) belonging to Periyapatna Bus Depot, left Mysuru to Hassan with passengers.

The driver took a turn on Hunsur Road and was proceeding on Hassan Road when a cow suddenly came on to the road forcing the bus driver to swerve slightly to the right side to avoid hitting the animal.

The alert bus driver then immediately pulled back to the left lane.

Meanwhile, three persons, triple riding on a bike, who were coming on the right lane from the opposite direction, were irked as the bus driver had moved momentarily to their side. So as the bus passed them, they took a U-turn, chased the bus, stopped it at Hosaramanahalli village and began to abuse both the driver and the conductor when they got down to explain.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Recent data during the on-going pandemic suggests that not only have jobs evaporated due to the economic freeze, people have also been forced to move to less productive and poorly paid alternatives. The pandemic has not only hit people with job losses, but for those holding jobs, it now means a lower quality of life. Another area of concern is people giving up being part of the active labour force because of the drying up of jobs. Labour participation — or the size of the economy's active workforce — has actually fallen to 35% now from 46 percent before the November 2016 note ban crisis. People dropping out and being forced to depend on their family, and the youth taking jobs below their station are adding to the fires in the economy. These are important signals the Government cannot ignore. — In The New Indian Express

Pet dog imitates limping owner!

London: A UK man who had spent around 300 pounds on vet bills after his pet dog started limping, later learned that there was nothing wrong with the animal and he was only imitating him.

Russell Jones was left unable to walk without limping after breaking his ankle in an accident last year. One day, while out on a walk with his dog Billy, Russel noticed that the canine was limping as well. On another occasion, as he was limping around the house, his partner Michelle noticed that Billy was sort of copying him, so they called a vet to have the dog checked out. Only after paying around 300 pounds for X-rays and checkups, he learnt that Billy was only imitating his gait out of sympathy.

Scientists found that dogs imitate their owners even when it is not in their best interest to do so.

Firm uses virtual influencer to display creations

Seoul: South-Korean tech giant LG recently made international news for using a virtual influencer as a co-presenter to introduce its innovations to the world, during the first ever all-digital CES 2021 tech show.

Reah Keem's bio on Instagram describes her as a songwriter, DJ and virtual musician. She has over 6,000 fans on the popular social network, which may not seem too impressive, but is actually quite a lot, considering Reah isn't real. She is part of human-like virtual influencers created by AI and CGI companies and designers, some of which have proven massively successful. Keem seems on her way to social media stardom as well, especially after being "hired" by LG Electronics to present its newest tech innovations during this year's CES event.

VOICE OF THE READER

Consider those above 80 as super-senior citizens

Give priority in attending to their problems

Sir,

Life expectancy at birth is about 70 percent as found during the population census of 2011, and also indicated that there are about 104 million senior citizens (about 10 percent). It may be about 173 million by 2026.

The Government has hiked the pension for 80-plus years and there are separate counters in CGHS (Central Government Health Scheme), Post Offices, Banks, Theatres, Transport and Hospitals for them, including home visit on emergency.

But with the increased number of senior citizens above 60 years, there are more number of persons in any assembly, in our queues with more number of youngsters above 60 years. It is tiring for older persons of 80 years and above like me to stand in queue for longer time with them.

Considering all these hazards, I suggest that persons (pensioners or otherwise) above 80 years should be separated into a category called "Super-Senior Citizens" to get priority in attending to their problems, in Hospital administration, travelling, food, personal attenders/caretakers if or as recommended by CGHS or super-specialist doctors.

The Government may consider the decision to have two stages of senior citizens — below 80 and above 80 — years for priority attention to above 80 — super seniors — in various offices and institutions where we often go for help and assistance.

Change in public mindset can drive clean rankings

Stakeholders meeting on Swachh Survekshan-2021 stresses on active public participation

Mysuru, Jan. 22 (YDS&BCT)- A stakeholders meeting was held regarding the on-going Swachh Survekshan-2021 where the aspect of daily cleanliness and active public participation was stressed upon for Mysuru to regain the Numero Uno place in Swachh Bharat rankings.

The meeting was held at the Old Council Hall last evening where there were discussions on change in the mindset towards cleanliness. Public, stakeholders, Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) elected representatives and officials and voluntary organisations were part of the meeting and valuable suggestions were given to improve the rankings.

Chief among them was awareness about cleanliness. Though the onus of keeping the city clean primarily rests on the MCC, public participation too was stressed. Public participation and voluntarism have been the hallmarks of Swachh Bharat Abhiyan and the reason for its success.

Indore model

Participation of people, hard work of sanitation workers, innovative steps taken for waste management and its processing and key financial measures helped cities like Indore in Madhya Pradesh get the top position in the Swachh Survekshan-2020 for the fourth time in a row, the meeting was told.

Swachh Survekshan has become a public movement. "It is imperative to understand that rankings are not solely based on solid waste management. It takes several other factors into consideration like sanitation, citizen feedback on cleanliness of public places, direct observation of a variety of indicators. Therefore, a city has to perform well on all fronts to secure a high rank. For this, public too must join hands with the MCC and the elected representatives must goad people towards keeping their surroundings clean every day," said Prof. K.S. Nagapathi.

Public consultation remains the core of creating a robust waste management system. Only that can trigger critical behaviour change. Over time, the masses will change their behaviour and adopt new practices which are more sustainable and help in keeping a city clean – this is the core idea behind the survey exercise, another participant opined.

Information and communication strategy

Participants also stressed the need to have a strong information, education and communication strategy aimed at inducing behaviour change among citizens. Creating targeted and engaging campaigns for relevant stakeholders is crucial and plays a key role in determining the outcome of any project, they opined.

Mysuru Choultry Owners' Association President Sathyanarayana suggested repairs of many dilapidated bus shelters that are marring the beauty of those particular areas. Mike Prakash suggested that the residents must take a proactive role like reporting to the MCC about people who dump waste indiscriminately on roadsides.

Leela Venkatesh of Clean Mysore Foundation highlighted that tiles put on several pavements in the city have come out and this has been found on the roadsides even at the heart of the city. "Most people dump garbage below trees and street corners. This must be curbed at any cost. Also, awareness must be created among shopkeepers to use paper bags or cloth bags instead of plastic," she added.

Several suggestions were put forth on constructing more toilets especially for women and improvements and beautification of parks, weed growth and garbage dumping on vacant sites and along the Outer Ring Road. "We have conducted month-long campaigns of picking up plastic waste around Mysore Palace. But unfortunately, people continue to dump plastic in this heritage location," said Deepak of Namma Mysuru Foundation.

Mayor Tasneem, Deputy Mayor C. Sridhar, MCC Commissioner Gurudatta Hegde and MCC Health Officers Dr. D.G. Nagaraj and Dr. Jayanth were present.

Eight killed in dynamite blast at Shivamogga; two arrested

Shivamogga, Jan. 22 (UNI& Agencies)-At least eight people were killed in a major blast that shook Shivamogga town last night. The blast was heard across Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa's home district at around 10.15 pm. The explosion was reported at a Railway Quarry site in Shivamogga District where a vehicle was carrying explosives.

As per reports, the massive explosion took place near a gravel and boulder crushing facility at a stone mining quarry. The possibility of subsequent explosions at the quarry at Hunasondi near village Abbalagere has not been ruled out since some dynamite sticks are still live, the Police were quoted as saying by news agencies. A bomb disposal squad has been rushed to the spot of the incident and the entire area has been sealed off.

While eyewitnesses say they felt tremors at the same time as the explosion, geologists had ruled out recording tremors in any of their observatories. So strong was the blast that window panes shattered while many houses and even roads developed cracks, said an eyewitness.

Sources in Shivamogga district administration confirmed that the high-intensity blast was from dynamite sticks being brought in a truck to a quarrying site on Shivamogga city's outskirts.

Sources at Hunasondi village where the powerful blast occurred said more than 50 dynamite and gelatine sticks were being carried in the truck.

The sound of the blast was heard in neighbouring Davanagere, Chikkamagalur and Uttara Kannada Districts. The vehicle carrying the explosives was badly mangled and the bodies of the victims were dismembered beyond recognition.

Condolences

Prime Minister Narendra Modi has expressed pain at the loss of lives in the explosion and said the Karnataka Government is providing all possible assistance to the affected.

Yediyurappa wrote on Twitter: "I extend condolences to deceased members. Injured people are being treated. I've ordered high-level inquiry on this and strict action will be taken." He said he had been in contact with senior officials since last night and dispatched teams to carry out rescue operations.

Two people have been detained so far. The arrested included a contractor of a stone crushing facility where the blast occurred when a truckload of gelatine sticks went off, Police added. Meanwhile, the authorities have not ruled out the possibility of the death toll increasing. "There are rumours that at least 10 to 15 people have died. Let the Police complete their investigation," Shivamogga Deputy Commissioner K.B. Shivakumar told reporters today.

Spurt in water-borne disease cases worry city Paediatricians

Mysuru City Corporation Health Officer promises to act

Mysuru, Jan. 22 (SSV)- A few Paediatricians have expressed their concern over increase in jaundice among children in N.R.Mohalla, Shakthinagar and Gayatripuram in city since last one month, due to alleged 'water contamination.' They have appealed to the Mysuru City Corporation authorities to take immediate steps in this regard in the wake of fast approaching summer season.

Doctors with whom Star of Mysore spoke to told that the cases of children with fever, vomiting and pain in stomach were coming in big numbers at various clinics in the city. These symptoms are indication of jaundice, a water-borne disease which needs immediate attention by MCC officials. They pointed out that while food infection was curable in one or two days with medication, water infection needs attention of parents by giving hot and cooled water to infected children.

The doctors pointed out that drinking water line and sewage line are laid parallel in most parts of the city and they get cross connected somewhere resulting in the mixture of drinking water with sewage water. Those who consume that water are bound to fall ill. "A few of us have shared this in our WhatsApp group only with the intention of alerting the MCC officials to act."

When contacted, Dr. M. Nagaraj, Health Officer, MCC, said the spurt in jaundice cases among kids has not come to his notice. However, Health Officers of N.R.Mohalla, Gayatripuram, Shakthinagar have been asked to go to the field to check and inform him. "We will take whatever steps required to check the outbreak of water-borne disease," he said.

Road Rage: Bus driver admitted

After driver Venkatesh and conductor K.T. Harish Kumar got down from the bus to explain why they moved slightly towards the right side, one of the bike riders picked up a quarrel and began to hurl abuses and then suddenly caught hold of Venkatesh and thrashed him. One of the riders then pulled out a knife and began stabbing Venkatesh.

Meanwhile, a crowd that had gathered consisting of local villagers, passengers and passersby remained mute spectators not doing anything to stop the assault or the assailant.

The rider, after being done with Venkatesh went after conductor Harish, who managed to run to safety. The bike riders then fled from the spot.

Though the whole incident took place in front of passengers none of them came to the driver's rescue even though the driver had swerved not only to prevent hitting the cow but also for the safety of passengers. Fortunately, a few passengers captured the incident on their mobile phones and the footage has now been shared with the Police as evidence.

Bilikere Police, who rushed to the spot, conducted mahazar, registered a case and shifted the bus driver to a private hospital in city. Also, four Police track teams have been formed to trace the assailants using the video footage.

The injured KSRTC bus driver being treated at Gopala Gowda Shanthaveri Memorial Hospital in Mysuru.

Is it time to replace Kohli as Captain ?

By N.K.A. Ballal,
Retd. Sr. Vice-President, ITDC

Ballal

The only problem in a cricket match with Australia or New Zealand is the odd timings. I had to wake up at 4.30 am to watch the final day proceedings much to the irritation of my better half. What a paisa wasool day of cricket.

I would not get up from my seat even for my breakfast and had it in my seat. After 32 years, Australia were beaten in their own turf of Gabba at Brisbane. And that too by a second string Indian team who due to injuries took 3 net bowlers into their team.

These bowlers in their wildest dreams would not have ever thought that they would don Indian colours one day. And that too in Australia! Rishabh Pant as Man of the Match? I thought Shardul Thakur with his all-round performance with bat and ball deserved it more.

Who was responsible for this turnaround in the attitude and that too after a humiliating defeat at Adelaide, where they were bowled out for the lowest score ever in Test cricket? Everyone all over the world expected a 4-0 whitewash of the series. But what a turnaround.

After getting beaten so badly in the first Test, our boys not only fought back but also won the Trophy 2-1 beating Australia in their own turf and retaining the Gavaskar-Border Trophy.

I personally feel it is the quiet, unassuming "temporary Captain" of the Indian team, Rahane who was responsible for this turnaround. Rahane has a black belt in karate. He does not rant, shout or swear but is able to bring out the best in all individuals, unlike our Kohli who wears his emotion in his sleeve all the time.

Kohli's record in Test matches as a Captain from 2017 onwards is 60 percent — that is, 33 matches out of 55 matches he has captained — much ahead of Dhoni [45 percent] or Ganguly [42 percent] but in spite of this, there is a clamour for his removal as a Captain. Simple, because Kohli has not won any major tournaments in his tenure. We lost both the Champions Cup and World T20 Cup. And the two multilateral Cups we won — The Asia Cup and The Nidahas Trophy — were by Rohit Sharma as a stand-in Captain.

Even in IPL, in spite of having an extremely strong Bangalore team with players like ABD, they have not won a single IPL Trophy so far. Why is that he is not able to bring out the hidden talent of his team players? There is no doubt in my mind that he is by far the best player in the Indian team and is world class. But where he fails is his ability to inspire others to perform.

Is he a good leader? No, his failings is that he has strong likes and dislikes. And a policy of "my way or highway." His team-mates fear him. His constant chatter, animated expressions may look good in TV but it does not result in victory in major tournaments.

Even in corporate world I have noticed that excellent managers who excel as Department Heads fail miserably when thrust with the top post and vice versa. I always believed that a certain amount of luck also is important for anyone who holds the top post. A very important talent for the Captain is the skill of communication and the confidence he is able to impart to his subordinates.

Of course, at present there is no one at the helm of BCCI who has the guts to ask Virat Kohli to step down as Captain and work as a team member under a new Captain. Kohli is the "brand ambassador" of many products who indirectly are sponsors of BCCI tournaments. This heavy lobby would ensure that Kohli continue as a Captain for many more years to come unless Kohli himself feels that he should abdicate his throne like Sachin Tendulkar did some years ago.

Virat Kohli is to be very influential with friends in the right places. Some say it was his influence that led for the Head Coach Anil Kumble being removed, only to be replaced by a friend Ravi Shastri.

Anyway, Kohli is back in the team for England series starting from Feb. 5 and our wish that Rahane continue as Captain is only a pipe dream. Miracles can happen. Let us wait and watch.

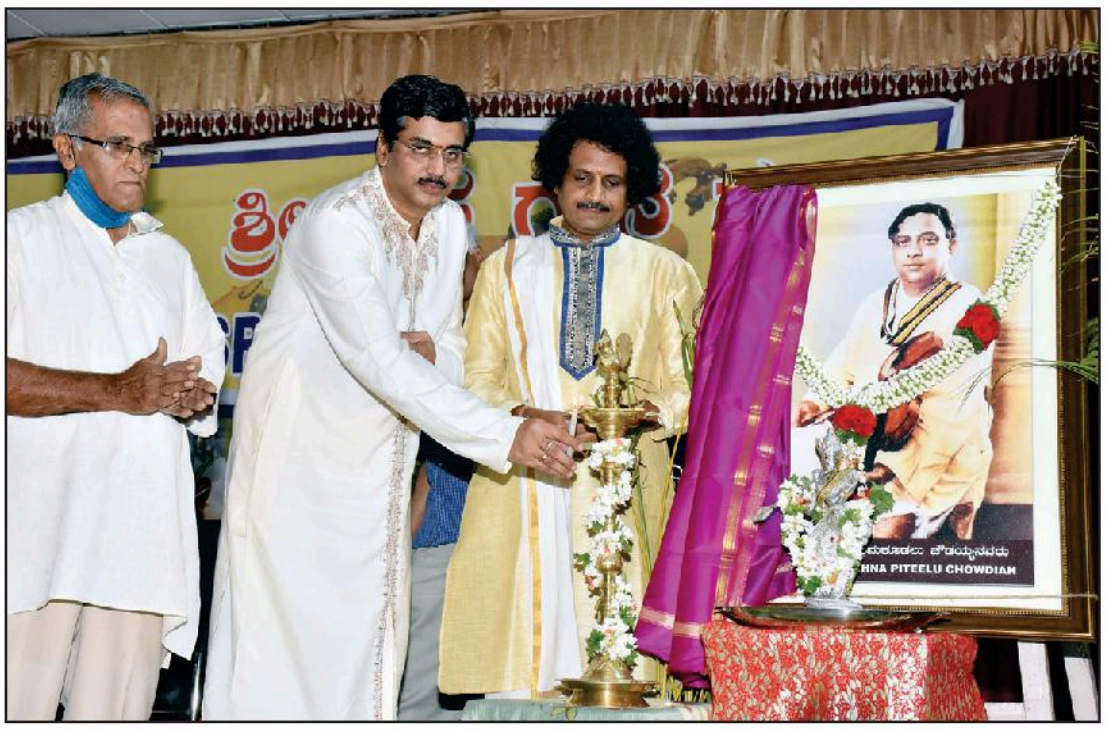
Violin duet marks Piteelu Chowdiah's 125th birth anniversary celebrations

Dr. Mysore Manjunath and his son Vid. Sumant Manjunath presenting a violin duet at Alwar Kala Bhavana, Sri Krishna Temple Complex, in Gokulam 3rd Stage, in city on Jan. 16, during the programme organised to mark Piteelu Chowdiah's 125th birth anniversary celebrations. They are accompanied by Vid. Tumkur B. Ravishankar on mridanga and Vid. Giridhar Udupa on ghata.

In the premises adjoining Sri Krishna Temple, under the aegis of Krishna Gana Sabha, there was a spectacular concert by none other than Mysuru's very own musical prince Dr. Mysore M. Manjunath, his son and protege Vid. Sumant Manjunath with mesmerising percussion support from Vid. Tumkur B. Ravishankar and Vid. Giridhar Udupa. Past year has been tough on everyone and with hopes for better times, the Sabha organisers decided to honour the legendary violinist Sangeetha Kalanidhi T. Chowdiah (this year being his 125th birth year), affectionately known as Piteelu Chowdiah, by unveiling of a portrait of the maha Vidwan and a violin concert by the above team.

It couldn't have been more apt than to have a violin concert commemorating the occasion. Dr. Manjunath as he mentioned at the beginning of concert, there was a "chaturdandi" connection to the maestro. Both of them are from the Mysuru region, music their language, with violin as their chosen instrument and last but not the least, Mysore Mahadevappa (Dr. Manjunath's guru and father) and Vid. Chowdiah are from the Bidaram Krishnappa lineage of music. In fact, the tamburi that was used, was a 150-year-old tamburi used by none other than Sri Bidaram Krishnappa that has been passed down from the guru to shishya.



A. Viswanath, Chartered Accountant, Gokulam, is seen lighting the lamp after unveiling the portrait of Piteelu Chowdiah at a programme held to mark the late maestro's 125th birth anniversary celebrations at Alwar Kala Bhavana, Sri Krishna Temple Complex, in Gokulam 3rd Stage, on Jan. 16.

The concert started off with Thyagaraja's plaintive call to Rama in Asaveri "Ra rama Indi Daaka". Each kriti comes with its own in-built tempo to it and the father son duo played the sangatis with just the right tempo. This was followed by Thyagaraja's Nada sudha Rasambilanu in a slightly higher speed, with some calculated swara exchange between the father and son. The stage was set. Shanmukhapriya was the next raga to be presented. There is something magical about the time the sun sets and listening to a raga with a dominant Prati Madhyama. The Raga alapana was exquisite, expansive, with both of them taking turns. Patnam's classic marivere Dikkevvaru was handled with all the sangatis and neraval at the usual "Sannuthanga Shri". Audience soaked in the shanmukhapriya for over 20 minutes and the 2nd speed swara exchange was handled by Vid. Sumanth like a very mature violinist.

Shankarabharana followed and the alapana was sublime and evocative. When an alapana is played, they say that it should mirror the musical essence of the kriti that will follow suit and here we could almost guarantee that the chosen kriti was Shyama Shastri's magnificent "saroja dala netri". Sure enough, Saroja Dala Netri with Neraval and swaras at Sama gana vinodini with all possible facets of Shankarabharana was presented to the audience. Again Sumanth, measuring up to the standards set by the veteran Violinist, his guru and father.

The baton was then handed to the percussionists Vid. Ravishankar and Vid. Giridhar Udupa. Even up until then, the brilliant team effort, their coordination was evident but the Thani gave them the opportunity to further display their musical excellence.

The soft and yet firm playing by Vid. Ravishankar, the tone from the ghata that only the magical fingers of Vid. Udupa can manage to produce made for a spectacular Thani. The audience was soaked in the strains of Shankarabharana for almost 45 minutes. Vid. Chowdiah has composed more than 50 kritis and thillanas under the pen name of "Tri makuta". Lalithambike maam pahi in Raga Vijayanagari is one such soulful composition which was rendered beautifully.

The blissful musical evening came to an end with an absolutely divine "Krishna nee begane baaro" by Vyasarayaru in Yaman. Although the song implores the Lord to come fast, the song has to be presented in a cajoling manner, in vilamba kaala to deliver the desired effect. To say it did, is an understatement.

Swami Vivekananda also said "Why not give the soul what it wants? We have to have music". Indeed. In these unprecedented times, we need music to heal us, to help us be in the present. Saturday's concert at Krishna Gana Sabha did just that.

'Priyam Bhaaratam' Music-dance extravaganza to mark Republic Day

Mysuru, Jan. 22- Naatya Sabha, Mysuru, has organised a music-dance extravaganza 'Priyam Bhaaratam,' based on patriotic themes on the occasion of Republic Day 2021, at Ganabharathi auditorium on Jan. 26 at 5.30 pm.

The main programme of the evening is a Dance-Drama titled 'Vande Mataram', choreographed, directed and presented by internationally renowned Bharatanatyam dancer Dr. Kripa Phadke and her disciples at Nrityagiri Performing Arts and Research Centre, Mysuru.

'Vande Mataram,' a dance-drama of unique style, is a three dimensional Opera. Depiction of the holy land Bharata (India) with its cultural, agricultural glory being one theme, followed by the entry of the British and their plans to rule the country being the second theme and then the struggle for Independence by patriots of India, being the third theme.

The only national song which became a slogan is 'Vande Mataram' for every Indian. India looks like his or her mother. India is a land of great divinity and abode of mother Goddess Maa Durga. This is interpreted as Bharat Maata.

Dr. Kripa Phadke

Vid. Rao R. Sharath

No doubt this dance-drama creates 'Rashtra Bhakti' among all the audience. This unique opera is authored by K.S. Chandrashekar.

There will be a light music programme presented by Vid. Rao R. Sharath, accompanied by his co-artistes and an orchestra. He will present patriotic songs in Sanskrit and other languages.

WORD OF THE DAY

Rapport

Pronunciation: ra-POR..
Meaning: A friendly, harmonious relationship; especially : a relationship characterised by agreement, mutual understanding, or empathy that makes communication possible or easy.
Origin: The word rapport bears a resemblance to a more common English word, report, which is no coincidence: both words come ultimately from the Latin verb portare, meaning "to carry," and both travelled through French words meaning "to bring back" on their way to English. Report has been in use since the 14th century, when it entered Middle English by way of Anglo-French, the French language as it was spoken in medieval England. Rapport was first used in the mid-15th century as a synonym of report in its "an account or statement" meaning, but that meaning had become obsolete by the mid-19th century.
Example: Once our daughter had developed a rapport with her piano teacher, she began to show some real enthusiasm for learning and practicing the piano.

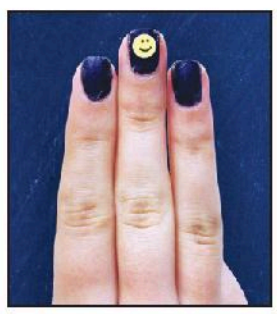
THE ODD WORD

Raffish

Disreputable; vulgar.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Read between the lines



Meaning: Discern a meaning which isn't made obvious or explicit.
Origin: This expression derives from a simple form of cryptography, in which a hidden meaning was conveyed by secreting it between lines of text. It originated in the mid 19th century and soon became used to refer to the deciphering of any coded or unclear form of communication, whether written or not; for example, one might say "She said she was happy to go to the party but didn't seem concerned when it was cancelled. Reading between the lines, I don't think she wanted to go in the first place". The first example that one can find of the phrase in print is from The New York Times, August 1862: Earl Russell's dispatch does not recite the terms of the note to which it is a reply, the letter assumes a somewhat enigmatical character, and the only resource we have is, as best we may, to "read between the lines" of this puzzling, but important, communication of the British Foreign Secretary.

Mohun Bagan edge past Chennaiyin in injury-time

Margao, Jan. 22 - Mohun Bagan secured three points after a 1-0 win over Chennaiyin FC at the Fatorda Stadium yesterday. David Williams scored the only goal of the game in second-half stoppage time.

Mohun Bagan had a big chance to go ahead in the 39th minute when a cross from the left found Krishna in the box, but the Fijian's header sailed over the crossbar. Memo Moura also took a shot from range for Chennaiyin just before halftime. His effort though was deflected behind for a corner, which was defended safely as the teams went into the break with the match goalless.

Like in the first half, both teams took some time to find their rhythm in the second and ATK Mohun Bagan introduced a couple of substitutes after the hour mark to inject some fresh impetus to their attack. The Kolkata giants went on to up the ante after the substitutes and came close to taking the lead in the 74th minute when a direct freekick by Hernandez required Kaith to make a diving save.

The final 10 minutes of regulation time saw the Marina Machans be a bit more adventurous going forward while the Mariners continued to see more of the ball without doing much with it. Antonio Lopez Habas' men eventually made all their possession count in injury time and it was one of his substitutes that got the winner.

Williams, who came off the bench in the 67th minute, rose highest and powered in a thumping header from a Hernandez corner to give his side the lead. Chennaiyin then pushed hard for an equaliser in the dying seconds of the match and even forced Tiri to make a goalline clearance to deny Enes Sipovic from scoring with his head. However, in the end, ATK Mohun Bagan's defence managed to hold on to their lead and secure maximum points.

Hero of the Match: David Williams (ATK Mohun Bagan).

Winning Pass of the Match: Javier Hernandez (ATK Mohun Bagan).
